

Personal Civilization ?

Personal Civilization?

Is there such a thing as being good at life?

Can culture be completely internalized or completely externalized?

Is familiarity ~~so~~ relevant ~~to~~ to ~~communication~~ love?

Is love independent of communication?

Are there any absolute errors?

What would be the characteristics of the optimum environment?

PERSONAL CIVILIZATION QUESTIONS

roster of answerers:

1. Michael Fellows

Is there such a thing as being good at life?

(1) There is.

Can culture be completely externalized or completely internalized?

1. Christ yes,

Is familiarity a relevant factor to operational love?

1. ~~Is~~ familiarity?

Is love independent of communication?

1.  Who can tell?

Are there any absolute errors?

1. ~~1.~~
1.

Jesus, no.

What would be the characteristics of the optimum environment?

1. Near the beach, near the mountains, but not with snowy winters, near a library that has access to the big libraries, near a telephone, fairly near a big city. What about Robert, Penny, Fred, Mom, Dad, etc? Near people who speak English, where there's a minimum of noxious bugs and reptiles. Oregon coast, Point Reyes, North of UCSO, up river from the San Antonio mission maybe. Where there are plenty of edible things to gather. No smog.